

Health Care Supply Association (HCSA) announce AdviseInc as latest Corporate Partner

HCSA is pleased to announce that AdviseInc is the latest organisation to join the Association as a Corporate Partner. AdviseInc was formed to help the Healthcare market #MakeSense of spend data,

Mat Oram, co-founder of AdviseInc commented

“Having access to relevant insight and information through our web-based tools such as our spend analytics solution PD (Procurement Dashboard) and PB (Price Benchmarking / PPIB in England) enables NHS procurement teams to reduce variation, deliver greater efficiency and achieve better value for money”

Over 50 NHS trusts are now actively benefiting from the use of PD with 20 more being on-boarded.

AdviseInc will continue to work together with the NHS and relevant stakeholders to introduce additional functionality to support delivery with our do-it-once approach for customers. Recent examples include the Buy Price Sell Price analysis we were able to run for our members at no additional cost - saving weeks of work.

AdviseInc will work with the HCSA to deliver insight into the association's membership and support the development of analytics as a function in procurement teams through specific training and support.

“HCSA is excited to announce our corporate partnership with AdviseInc, which will build on the importance of information and insight in our organisations and bring to life the true benefits of using analytics to transform what we do as procurement teams across the NHS.”

Alan Hoskins, Chief Officer Health Care Supply Association
